

Julie Hernandez

Originally from New York City, 2x World Salsa Summit champion, Julissa Hernandez's love for dance began at a very young age at home among family. At the age of 11, she began training in jazz but quickly found her way back to Latin music and culture. She has been teaching and dancing in the industry for over 22 years. Her unique style, love and passion for the arts has been expressed through her creative choreography and distinct style of teaching. She strongly believes that these two attributes make learning to dance fun and easy.

A class with her is not a typical class, it's an experience that will have you wanting to learn more about Latin dance, the music and culture.
